VERSE 1

B E G#m F# E
From Adam's rebellion to Moses' good Law, death reigned the master of men;
 B E G#m F# E
With all of creation held under its claw, awaiting redemption from sin.
 G#m E G#m E F#
But when the Law thundered in earthquake and fire, weak as it was through our flesh,
 G#m E F#
It could not help conquer our sinful desires, only tightened the noose 'round our neck.

VERSE 2

B E G#m F# E
Still, God remembered His mercy in wrath and promised a way of escape:
 B E G#m F# E
A Lamb to be killed on the people's behalf would trample the head of the snake
 G#m E G#m E F#
But though we would offer our best to the fire and rivers of blood would be spilt,
 G#m E F#
This could not help with our sinful desires, nor atone for the depth of our guilt.

CHORUS x2

B F#
When the fullness of time had come
 E B/D# C#m
God sent us His only Son,
 B F#
Born of a woman, born under law,
 E B F# - - - - - | - - - - -
So that He might a people redeem.

VERSE 3

B E G#m F# E
With joy set before Him and love to display, He laid aside His great crown;
 B E G#m F# E
To share in our nature as creatures of clay, He emptied Himself and came down,
 G#m E G#m E F#
Lived like a servant without any home, he carried our sorrows and griefs,
 G#m E F#
Was spit at rejected, despised and alone; accursed, He hung on a tree.

CHORUS x2

B F#
When the fullness of time had come
E B/D# C#m
God sent us His only Son,
B F#

BRIDGE x2

E B/D# C#m B
We're no longer slaves, we've been bought with a price
E B/D# C#m B

To His righteousness free!
